Profile of Fanatical Sweepstaker
Sharon Ashmore, NC

Home State: North Carolina
How did you get started sweepstaking?
As a 13 year old kid, I saw a contest on TV for “Family of the Week”. I loved to write so I wrote in with a story about my family and I won. The TV station came to our house and did a short story on us and it aired on TV for two weeks. Besides being featured on TV, the prize included a trip to the mountains and we were the talk of the neighborhood. My mother was so surprised when she got the phone call that we won and that I nominated our family. I didn’t tell my mother that I had entered the contest. I didn’t start seriously sweepstaking until 1996. The mother of my son’s friend was a sweeper and shared her sweepstake stories of all the wonderful things she had won. I thought, “I can do that too”. I started sweepstaking and shortly thereafter won a grand prize. It was a trip for four to the Orange Bowl at the Car Quest Bowl in Miami. We stayed at the Don Shula hotel and had limo to both Bowl games. Needless to say, I was hooked and have been sweepstaking consistently ever since. What a ride it has been (and a blessing)! Through the years, I’ve subscribed to several different newsletters, but always come back to SWEEPSTAKE®.

What prizes have you won?
Some of my favorite wins include a spa trip to Utah, a Disney Trip for four, 2008 Ford Focus (I’m due for another car win), $10,000 savings bond, $10,000 cash, trip to Kansas City Royals game and husband had opportunity to win one million dollars (we didn’t win the million got but a $10,000 consolation prize – husband enjoyed being the halftime entertainment and said he’d do that again any weekend for $10,000). My mom got to carry the Olympic Torch through our city (thanks to Coke), a year’s supply of diapers and baby food (right before my 1st grandchild was born), several cruises, trip to Australia, trip to St. Thomas, $1,000 toward sports equipment to the school of my choice, meet and greets with Rich Petty, American Idol Stars and Luke Kuechly, lots of very useful gift cards, and soooo much more. It’s always a double win for me when I win something and get to share with family, friends or my community, especially when it helps someone else. One win allowed me to compete at half time for a Harley Motorcycle. I was blindfolded and had to crawl (on hands and knees) on the basketball court looking for a toy motorcycle. There were four of us and the first one to stumble onto the toy motorcycle won the Harley. I worked so hard to find that toy but didn’t win. The sponsor did give all 4 of us leather jackets, which my teenage son was thrilled with. I’ve also won a pair of motocross racing motorcycles. My husband and I sold them and didn’t tell our sons about them. We knew they would want us to keep them. (No Way) They were just too dangerous. At the end of each year, I go through all my win notices and am always amazed at what I’ve won.

How much time do you spend?
I have to admit that I spend a lot of time sweepstaking. Many years ago most of my time was spent on mail-ins but that has changed. I now mostly enter online or text. I don’t sleep well and am always up very early. I enter most of my sweeps from 5am to 7am each day. My sweeps are bookmarked on my computer and I use RoboForm (my best friend) to help speed my entering of sweeps. I always do a search on my email for ‘congratulations’ and ‘potential winner’ to make sure I don’t miss a potential win email. Each evening I enter sweeps through texting.

Tips AND Comments:
My biggest tip is to enter consistently and look for winnable sweeps. Local and restricted sweeps have greater odds of winning. If you enter and keep entering, you will win. I’m evidence of that. Use your resources to find new and unique sweeps. - i.e. SWEEPSTAKE® newsletter and Conversation Corner, web sites (there are soooo many great ones). Check advertisements and flyers at your local grocery stores; join a club and always have your eyes and ears open for new sweeps. Enter as many ways as you can – drop boxes, Facebook (and other social media), mail-ins, online forms, text, game pieces, skill contests and the list goes on. I’ve recently started attending Twitter Parties and have won with them. People say I’m lucky but I think you create your own luck with effort, positive thinking, hard work, and making sure your name is in as many sweepstake drawings as possible. (and following the rules)

“I think you create your own luck with effort, positive thinking, hard work, and making sure your name is in as many sweepstake drawings as possible. (and following the rules)”

Do not respond to this email:

"Congratulations on your winnings. Your email has been received as the GRAND PRIZE 2016 Toyota® Highlander® LE PLUS Winner of the RESERS FINE FOOD promotional sweepstakes. You are requested to provide your ID proof like driving licence or international passport photocopy. Scan it and send it to us via email attachment immediately you receive this mail notification. See Attach for your confirmation Letter as the Grand Prize Winner. Download Attached File and view on a computer and follow the next step to receive your prize. Best Regards Resor’s Fine Foods, Inc. Beaverton, OR 97006."

I can’t stress enough to read notifications like this carefully. Notice there is bad grammar and misspelled words. That should be your first red flag. Also, they would call you with a prize of that size and there would be an affidavit to have notarized. None of the above here. The Resor’s website was hacked. Here is what Resor’s has to say about the hacking:

"ATTENTION: The Resor’s Toyota Highlander Sweepstakes winner was not to be drawn until September 10, 2016. If you are contacted by email or any other form of communication saying that you’ve won before this date, please delete immediately and do not reply or give any personal information. Our website has been hacked. The sweepstakes has been suspended in order to further investigate the issue and how it occurred. An update will be posted with more information as soon as it is available."

When in doubt call me or post your win notice on Conversation Corner. We have many smart readers who knew this was a scam right from the start.

General Rules

Unless otherwise indicated, the sweepstakes printed in SweepSheet® are open to all legal U.S. residents, including military personnel. Those sweepstakes which are open only to U.S. citizens and those also open to residents of Canada will be noted. In most cases, the employees and the family members of the sponsor are not eligible to enter.

Some sweepstakes are also restricted to certain states, age groups, or occupations. Before you enter a sweepstakes, be sure to check the “NOTES” section to make sure you are eligible.

There is generally a limit of one prize per person or household. If the prize is a trip, and includes the use of a rental car, be aware you must be 25 or older and possess a valid credit card & driver’s license to claim the car. A major credit card may be required at hotel check-in. Unless otherwise specified, winner and guest(s) must travel together on the same itinerary.
